This is an Age of Progress; new ideas and new appliances follow each other in rapid succession. Inventive genius is taxed to the uttermost in devising new inventions, not alone for articles of utility or necessity, but to meet the ever-increasing demands for novelties which administer to creature-comfort, and afford gratification to fastidious tastes.

A new beverage is the pride of the Bartender, and its appreciation and adoption his crowning glory.

In this entirely new edition will be found all the latest efforts of the most prominent and successful caterers to the tastes of those who patronize the leading Bars and Wine-Rooms of America, as well as the old and standard favorite beverages, always in general demand.

HINTS AND RULES

FOR BARTENDERS.

1. An efficient bartender's first aim should be to please his customers, paying particular attention to meet the individual wishes of those whose tastes and desires he has already watched and ascertained ; and, with those whose peculiarities he has had no opportunity of learning, he should politely inquire how they wish their beverages served, and use his best judgment in endeavoring to fulfill their desires to their entire satisfaction. In this way he will not fail to acquire popularity and success.

2. Ice must be washed clean before being used, and then never touched with the hand, but placed in the glass either with an ice-scoop or tongs.

3. Fancy drinks are usually ornamented with such fruits as are in season. When a beverage requires to be strained into a glass, the fruit is added after straining ; but when this is not the case, the fruit is introduced into the glass at once. Fruit, of course, must not be handled, but picked up with a silver spoon or fork.

4. In preparing any kind of a hot drink, the glass should always be first rinsed rapidly with hot water ; if this is not done the drink cannot be served sufficiently hot to suit a fastidious customer. Besides, the heating of the glass will prevent it from breaking when the boiling water is suddenly introduced.

5. In preparing cold drinks great discrimination should be observed in the use of ice. As a general rule, shaved ice should be used when spirits form the principal ingredient of the drink, and no water is employed. When eggs, milk, wine, vermouth, seltzer or other mineral waters are used in preparing a drink, it is better to use small lumps of ice, and these should always be removed from the glass before serving to the customer.

6. Sugar does not readily dissolve in spirits ; therefore, when making any kind of hot drink, put sufficient boiling water in the glass to dissolve the sugar, before you add the spirits.

7. When making cold mixed-drinks it is usually better to dissolve the sugar with a little cold water, before adding the spirits. This is not, however, necessary when a quantity of shaved ice is used. In making Cocktails the use of syrup has almost entirely superseded white sugar.

8. When drinks are made with eggs, or milk, or both, and hot wine or spirits is to be mixed with them, the latter must always be poured upon the former gradually, and the mixture stirred briskly during the process ; otherwise the eggs and milk will curdle. This is more particularly the case when large quantities of such mixtures are to be prepared. Such drinks as "English Rum Flip," "Hot Egg Nogg" and "Mulled Wine," are sure to be spoiled unless these precautions are observed.

9. In preparing Milk Punch or Egg Nogg in quantity, the milk or eggs should be poured upon the wine or spirits, very gradually, and continually beating the mixture in order to mix the ingredients thoroughly.

10. When preparing cold Punch, the bowl should be placed in a tin or metal vessel about the same depth as the height of the bowl, the space between the bowl and the vessel being packed with ice, and a little rock-salt sprinkled over the surface, which has the effect of producing a freezing mixture, much colder than the plain ice. Towels may be pinned around the exterior of the vessel, and the exposed surface of the ice trimmed with fruit or leaves, giving the whole an attractive appearance.

11. In case brandy, whiskey, or other liquors are to be drawn for use direct from the wood, the cask should be placed upon a skid, a substantial stand made expressly for the purpose, and kept in a place where the temperature is moderate and uniform.

12. Bottles containing liquor should be kept lying down, in order to keep the corks moist, and prevent the strength being lost by evaporation.

13. Casks containing Ale or Porter should be tapped before placing them on the skid, and then allowed sufficient time for the contents to settle and become clear before using.

14. Champagne requires careful treatment. It is not advisable to place more at a time on ice than is likely to be used, because if removed from the ice and again allowed to get warmer, a second icing injures both flavor and strength.

15. When champagne has been well iced, it requires a good deal of care in handling the bottles; cold renders the glass brittle, and less able to withstand the expansive pressure of the contents.

16. Bottles containing champagne, or any other brisk wines, must be kept laying down; if in an upright position for any length of time, the corks become dry, and the gas is liable to escape.

17. During the process of cooling sparkling wines, the bottles should not be placed in direct contact with the ice, because that portion of the bottle which touches the ice cools more rapidly than the remainder, causing unequal contraction and consequent tendency to crack.

18. When sparkling wines are served in the bottle, they should be put in an ice-pail, and the space between the bottles and pail filled with ice broken small. When the bottle is entirely surrounded by ice, the liability of cracking from unequal contraction does not exist.

19. When Champagne is in occasional use, being served by the glass or for mixing beverages, it is a good plan to place the bottle on a rack, the neck sloping downwards, and insert through the cork a cork-screw syphon provided with a cut off or faucet, by the use of which a small portion may be drawn off at a time without allowing any escape of the gas.

20. Mineral waters contained in syphons should be cooled gradually, and not allowed to stand in contact with the ice. Although the syphons are constructed of very thick glass, this very thickness, while affording complete resistance to the expansion of the gas contained, is the more liable to crack from unequal contraction, when only one portion of the syphon is touching the ice.

21. Cordials, Bitters, and Syrups should be cooled gradually, and not laid upon ice. A moderate degree of coolness is sufficient for these preparations, as they are only used in small portions for mixing and flavoring.

22. Claret, Rhine-Wines, Sherry, Port, etc., require special attention. Their temperature should not be too cold; and, when poured into glasses, the bottle should be steadily handled, so that any sediment that may be in the bottom of the bottle is not disturbed. Bottles containing these wines, when laid away, should be placed on their sides, to keep the corks moist.

23. Whiskey is usually kept directly on ice, but brandy and other liquors require only a moderate temperature. Fine old Cognac loses its "velvet" when chilled.

24. The refreshing qualities and flavor of Lager beer depend very largely on the manner of keeping and handling. Casks or kegs containing it should be kept at a temperature of about 40°. Lager is always in its best condition when it comes from the brewer's ice-house. When carted through the streets on a hot summer's day, the temperature is quickly increased, and it must then be stored in a refrigerator for three or four days in order to reduce it to a proper temperature before using.

25. When the consumption of a keg of beer is sufficiently rapid, it is best drawn directly from the keg, the first glass drawn being rejected. The tap must be thoroughly cleansed before using; and, as soon as the beer ceases to run freely, a vent is placed in the bung.

When, however, the keg has to stand in use for some time before it becomes empty, a considerable amount of gas will escape every time the vent is opened, and the beer will soon become "flat, stale and unprofitable" at least for the consumer. To obviate this, and to keep the beer tolerably fresh to the end, the vent is not used, but a tube is inserted in the vent-hole, leading to a receiver or cylinder containing air, compressed either by water-power or a hand force-pump. This exerts a continual pressure on the surface of the beer, and prevents the gas from rising. Too great an amount of air-pressure should be avoided, because the beer will be driven too forcibly through the tap, and fill the glass with more froth and less beer than a thirsty drinker would care to pay for.

The air in the cylinder should be drawn from a pure source, by means of a tube, if necessary, leading to the open air. The air in a cellar or even a close apartment is rarely pure, and would have a decidedly unwholesome effect on the beer.

26. Bottled Beer should be kept in a cool place or in a refrigerator, not in contact with the ice. The bottles ought to stand upright, so that any sediment will settle to the bottom. It is, therefore, not advisable to pour the last dregs of the bottle into the glass.

27. Syrups are peculiarly attractive to ants, flies, and other insects; they should, therefore, be kept in closely corked vessels; and, when in bottles for use, be kept in a cool place, properly corked, a rubber cork being most convenient, and the bottles standing upright in water. In this manner the bottles will be out of the reach of insects of every kind.

Rub a sliced lemon around the rim of the glass, and dip it in pulverized white sugar, so that the sugar will adhere to the edge of the glass. Pare half a lemon the same as you would an apple (all in one piece) so that the paring will fit in the wine-glass, as shown in the cut. Take three or four sprigs of fresh mint, and press them well in the sugar and water, until the flavor of the mint is extracted; add the brandy, and fill the glass with fine shaved ice, then draw out the sprigs of mint and insert them in the ice with the stems downward, so that the leaves will be above, in the shape of a bouquet; arrange berries, and small pieces of sliced orange on top in a tasty manner, dash with Jamaica rum, and serve with a straw.

The Real Georgia Mint Julep.

(Use large bar-glass.)

Take 1 tea-spoonful of white powered sugar.

$\frac{3}{4}$ wine-glass of Cognac brandy.

$\frac{3}{4}$ wine-glass of peach brandy.

About 12 sprigs of the tender shoots of mint.

Put the mint in the tumbler, add the sugar, having previously dissolved it in a little water, then the brandy, and lastly, fill up the glass with shaved ice. Stir with a spoon but do not crush the mint. This is the genuine method of concocting a Southern mint julep, but whiskey may be substituted for brandy if preferred.

A Georgia paper recently speaking on this subject says :

Probably the old-fashioned julep is in its decadence as a public drink, but it does not follow that the art of constructing this famous Southern refresher is lost. On the contrary, we have knowledge of several old-fashioned gardens where the mint bed under the southern wall still blooms luxuriantly ; where white fingers of household angels come every day about this time of the year and pluck a few sprays of the aromatic herb to build a julep for poor old shaky grandpa, who sits in the shady corner of the veranda with his feet on the rail and his head busy with the olden days. In such a household the art is still preserved. With her sleeves rolled up, the rosy granddaughter stirs sugar in a couple of table-spoonfuls of sparkling water, packs crushed ice to the top of the heavy cut-glass goblet, pours in the mellow whiskey until an overthrow threatens and then daintily thrusts the mint sprays into the crevices. And the old man, rousing from his dreams, blesses the vision which seems to rise up from the buried days of his youth, and with his gay nose nestling peacefully in the nosegay at the summit of his midday refresher, quaffs the icy drink, and with a long-drawn sigh of relief sinks back to dream again until the dinner bell sounds its hospitable summons. The mint julep still lives, but it is by no means fashionable. Somehow the idea has gotten abroad that the mint ought to be crushed and shaken up with water and whiskey in equal proportions. No man can fall in love with such a mixture. Poor juleps have ruined the reputation of the South's most famous drink.

Gin Julep.

(Use large bar-glass.)

Mix the whites and yolks of the eggs in the bowl with the balance of the water and beat them together thoroughly. When the wine boils pour it on the mixture in the bowl, add the nutmeg, and stir it rapidly.

Mulled Wine without Eggs.

(General rule for making.)

To every pint of wine allow :

1 small tumblerful of water.

Sugar and spice to taste.

Boil the spice in the water until the flavor is extracted, then add the wine and sugar, and bring the whole to the boiling point, then serve with strips of crisp, dry toast, or with biscuits.

The spices usually used for mulled wine are cloves, grated nutmeg, and cinnamon.

Any kind of wine may be mulled, but Port or Claret are those usually selected for the purpose; and the latter requires a large proportion of sugar.

Maraschino Punch.

(Use large bar-glass.)

 $\frac{1}{2}$ pony-glass of Maraschino.

1 orange sliced.

The juice of a lemon.

2 slices of pineapple (cut in small pieces).

1 wine-glass of raspberry or strawberry syrup.

Ornament with fruits in season, and serve in Champagne goblets.

For a good Champagne punch, see Index, "Rocky Mountain Punch."

Mississippi Punch.

(Use large bar-glass.)

Take 1 wine-glass of brandy.

$\frac{1}{2}$ wine-glass of Jamaica rum.

- Take 1 gallon of water.
3 quarts of brandy.
1 pint of Jamaica rum.
1½ pounds of white sugar.
Juice of 6 lemons.
3 oranges sliced.
1 pineapple, pared, and cut up.

2 gills of raspberry syrup.
Ice, and add berries in season.

Mix the materials well together in a large bowl, and you have a splendid punch.

If not sweet enough, add more sugar.

Hot Brandy and Rum Punch.

(For a party of fifteen.)

- Take 1 quart of Jamaica rum.
1 quart of Cognac brandy.
1 pound of white loaf-sugar.
4 lemons.
3 quarts of boiling water.
1 tea-spoonful of nutmeg.

Rub the sugar over the lemons until it has absorbed all the yellow part of the skins, then put the sugar into a punch-bowl; add the ingredients well together, pour over them the boiling water, stir well together; add the rum, brandy and nutmeg; mix thoroughly, and the punch will be ready to serve.

It is very important, in making good punch, that all the ingredients are thoroughly incorporated ; and, to insure success, the process of mixing must be diligently attended to.

Allow a quart for four persons ; but this information must be taken cum grano salis ; for the capacities of persons for this kind of beverage are generally supposed to vary considerably.

Rocky Mountain Punch.

(For a mixed party of twenty.)

(From a recipe in the possession of Major James Foster.)

Take 5 bottles of champagne.

1 quart of Jamaica rum.

Mix the above ingredients (except the wine) in a large punch-bowl, then place the bowl in some kind of a vessel about the same depth as the size of the bowl, and pack the space between the bowl and the vessel with ice, with a little rock-salt sprinkled over the surface.

When the icing arrangement has been completed, and just before the punch is to be served, add the wine and some slices of orange and lemon.

The exterior of the vessel containing the punch-bowl may be ornamented in any way that suits the fancy. See Hint 10, page 15.

Imperial Punch.

3 or 4 slices of cucumber rind.

Put all the ingredients into a pitcher and mix well.

Thirty-Second Regiment or Victoria Punch.

$1\frac{3}{4}$ quart of water.

1 pint of boiling milk.

Steep the lemons for twenty-four hours in the brandy and rum; then add the sugar, water and milk, and when well mixed, strain through a jelly-bag.

This punch may be bottled, and used afterward hot or cold.

Half the above quantity, or even less, may be made, as this recipe is for a party of twenty.

Light Guard Punch.

(*For a party of twenty.)

3 pints of green tea.

1 pound of loaf-sugar.

Juice of six lemons.

$\frac{1}{2}$ of a pineapple cut in small pieces.

Dissolve the sugar in the tea, add the other materials. Serve iced.

Take 1 quart of old Batavia Arrack.

6 lemons.

1 pound of loaf-sugar.

1 quart of boiling water.

Cut the lemons into thin slices, and steep them in the Arrack for six hours. Remove the lemons without squeezing them. Dissolve the sugar in the water, and add it while hot to the Arrack. Then let it cool. This makes a fine liqueur which should be thoroughly iced before serving.

*Most of the Arrack imported into this country is distilled from rice, and comes from Batavia. It is but little used in America, except to flavor punch the taste of it is very agreeable in this mixture.

Arrack Punch.

(Three tumblers of punch.)

Take 2 wine-glasses of Batavia Arrack (old).

3 wine-glasses of Jamaica rum.

Sweeten to taste with loaf-sugar dissolved in hot water.

Lemons and limes are also matter of palate, but two lemons are enough for the above quantity ; put then an equal quantity of water—i.e., not five but six glasses to allow for the lemon juice, and you have three very pretty tumblers of punch.

Nuremburg Punch.

Take $\frac{1}{2}$ pound of loaf-sugar.

2 or 3 large oranges.

1 quart of boiling water.

 $\frac{1}{3}$ quart of Batavia Arrack.

1 bottle French red wine.

Pare off a portion of the orange peel very thin. Press the juice of the oranges through muslin into the sugar ; add the previously pared peel. Pour on them the water (boiling) and the Arrack ; add the wine, hot but not boiling, and stir together.

White wine may be substituted for the red, but the latter is considered better for the purpose.

This is an excellent punch when cold, and will improve with age.

Soyer's Gin Punch.

Take $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of old gin.

1 gill of Maraschino.

The juice of two lemons.

The rind of half a lemon.

Four ounces of syrup.

1 quart bottle of German Seltzer water.

Ice well, before serving.

United Service Punch.

Take $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of Arrack.

1 pint of Jamaica rum.

$\frac{1}{2}$ pound of loaf-sugar.

3 pints of hot tea.

6 lemons.

Rub off the peel of four of the lemons with some of the sugar. Dissolve the sugar in the tea; add the juice of all the lemons, and the Arrack. Serve cold.

Pineapple Punch.

(For a party of ten.)

Take 4 bottles of Champagne.

1 pint of Jamaica rum.

1 pint of brandy.

1 gill of Curaçoa.

Juice of four lemons.

2 pineapples sliced.

Sweeten to taste with pulverized white sugar.

Put the pineapple with quarter of a pound of sugar in a glass bowl, and let them stand until the sugar is well soaked in the pineapple, then add all the other ingredients, except the Champagne.

Let this mixture stand in ice for about an hour, then add the Champagne, and ornament with sliced orange, and other fruits in season.

Serve in Champagne glasses.

Pineapple punch is sometimes made by adding sliced pineapple to brandy punch.

Royal Punch.

(For a small party.)

Take 1 pint of hot green tea.

½ pint of brandy.

½ pint of Jamaica rum.

1 wine-glass of Curaçoa.

1 wine-glass of Arrack.

Juice of two limes.

A slice of lemon.

White sugar to taste.

1 gill of warm calf's foot jelly.

To be drunk as hot as possible.

This is a composition worthy of a king, and the materials are admirably blended; the inebriating effects of the spirits being deadened by the tea, whilst the jelly softens the mixture, and destroys the acrimony of the acid and sugar.

The whites of a couple of eggs well beat up to a froth, may be substituted for the jelly where that is not at hand.

If the punch is too strong, add more green tea to taste.

Century Club Punch.

Take 1 pint of old Santa Cruz rum.

1 pint of old Jamaica rum.

5 pints of water.

With the addition of lemon juice and sugar to suit the taste, this makes a nice punch.

The precise portions of spirit and water, or even of the acidity and sweetness, can have no general rule, as scarcely two persons make punch alike.

California Milk Punch.

(For Bottling.)

Take the juice of four lemons.

The rind of two lemons.

$\frac{1}{2}$ pound of white sugar, dissolved in just sufficient hot water.

1 pineapple, peeled, sliced and pounded.

6 cloves.

20 coriander seeds.

1 small stick of cinnamon.

1 pint of brandy.

1 pint of Jamaica rum.

1 gill of Batavia Arrack.

1 cup of strong green tea.

1 quart of boiling water.

1 quart of hot milk.

Put all the materials in a clean demijohn, the boiling water to be added last; cork this down to prevent evaporation, and allow the ingredients to steep for at least six hours; then add the hot milk and the juice of two more lemons ; mix, and filter through a jelly-bag ; and when the punch has passed bright, put it away in tight-corked bottles.

This punch is intended to be iced for drinking.

If intended for present use filtering is not necessary.

English Milk Punch.

(To make six bottles.)

Take 2 quarts of water.

1 quart of milk.

1 quart of old Jamaica rum.

2 quarts of French brandy.

Add the milk to the water. Mix the spirits, and pour them into the milk, stirring the mixture for a short time. Let it stand for an hour, then filter through blotting-paper into bottles. This would be sufficient for six bottles. If, after filtering, the punch is not clear, the addition of a small portion of isinglass to each bottle will clarify it.

Oxford Punch.

(The Punch patronized by the Students of the University of Oxford.)

Take 1 pint of Cognac brandy.

1 pint of old Jamaica rum.

1 quart of orange shrub.

½ pint of sherry.

1 bottle of Capillaire (see Index).

2 quarts of boiling water.

6 glasses of calf's-foot jelly.

6 lemons.

4 sweet oranges.

Sufficient loaf-sugar, dissolved in some of the hot water.

Rub the rinds of three lemons with sugar to extract the essential oil. Cut the peel very fine off two more lemons and two of the oranges. Press out the juice of all the oranges and lemons. Place the whole, with the jelly, in a jug and stir well. Pour on the water, and let it stand for twenty minutes. Strain through a fine sieve into a large bowl ; add the capillaire, spirits, shrub, and wine, stirring well.

Punch a la Romaine.

(For a party of fifteen.)

Take 1 bottle of rum.

1 bottle of wine.

10 lemons.

2 sweet oranges.

2 pounds of powdered sugar.

10 eggs.

Dissolve the sugar in the juice of the lemons and oranges, adding the thin rind of one orange ; strain through a sieve into a bowl, and add by degrees the whites of the eggs beaten to a froth. Place the bowl on ice for a while, then stir in briskly the rum and the wine.

Duke of Norfolk Punch.

(For bottling.)

Take 2 quarts of brandy.

1 quart of white wine.

- 1 quart of milk.
- 1¼ pound of sugar.
- 6 lemons.
- 3 oranges,

Pare off the peel of the oranges and lemons very thin ; put the peel and all the juice into a vessel with a close-fitting lid. Pour on the brandy, wine, and milk, and add the sugar after having dissolved it in sufficient water. Mix well, and cover close for twenty-four hours. Strain until clear, and bottle.

Tea Punch.

(Use heated metal bowl.)

- Take ½ pint of good brandy.
- ½ pint of rum.
- ¼ pound of loaf-sugar, dissolved in water.
- 1 ounce of best green tea.
- 1 quart of boiling water.
- 1 large lemon.

Infuse the tea in the water. Warm a silver or other metal bowl until quite hot ; place in it the brandy, rum, sugar, and the juice of the lemon. The oil of the lemon peel should be first obtained by rubbing with a few lumps of the sugar. Set the contents of the bowl on fire ; and while flaming, pour in the tea gradually, stirring with a ladle. It will continue to burn for some time, and should be ladled into glasses while in that condition. A heated metal bowl will cause the punch to burn longer than if a china bowl is used.

Gothic Punch.

(Use punch bowl.)

(From a recipe in the possession of Hon. Bayard Taylor.)

Take 4 bottles of still Catawba wine.

1 bottle of claret.

1 bottle of Champagne.

3 oranges.

10 table-spoonfuls of sugar.

Dissolve the sugar in the Catawba and claret wines; add the juice of the oranges. When mixed, put it in ice for an hour or more, and then add the Champagne.

Punch a la Ford.

(For bottling.)

(A recipe from Benson E. Hill, Esq., author of "The Epicure's Almanac.")

Take 3 dozen lemons.

2 pounds of loaf-sugar.

1 pint of Cognac.

1 pint of old Jamaica rum.

The lemons should have smooth rinds. Peel the yellow rinds off quite thin with a sharp knife, place them in an earthen vessel; add the sugar, and stir thoroughly for nearly half an hour with a flat piece of wood, to extract the essential oil. Pour boiling water on, and stir until the sugar is completely dissolved.

Cut and squeeze the lemons, straining the juice from the pips. Place the pips in a jug and pour boiling water upon them to obtain the mucilage in which they are enveloped.

Pour one-half of the lemon juice into the syrup, strain the water from the pips, and add it also to the syrup, taking care that the syrup is not too watery. Next, add more sugar or more lemon juice, to make the mixture accord to the taste. Lastly add and stir in the above amount of spirits to every three quarts of the lemonade, and bottle.

This punch improves by age if kept in a cool cellar.

Punch Jelly.

Take 1 quart of Punch à la Ford.

3 ounces of isinglass.

$\frac{1}{2}$ pint of water.

Dissolve the isinglass in the water, boiling; add it while hot to the punch, and then pour into jelly-moulds, taking care they are not disturbed until the jelly is completely set.

In a similar manner, orange, lemon, or calf's-foot jelly can be converted into punch jelly, by using Punch à la Ford, prepared with less lemon juice.

Punch Jelly is a very insinuating and deceptive refreshment, because its strength is not appreciated when partaking of it, and it must therefore be indulged in with becoming moderation.

Dry Punch.

(For bottling.)

(From a recipe by Santina the celebrated Spanish caterer.)

Take $1\frac{1}{2}$ pound of loaf-sugar, dissolved in sufficient water.

2 gallons of brandy.

1 gallon of water.

- ½ gallon of strong green tea.
- 1 pint of Jamaica rum.
- ½ pint of Curaçoa.
- Juice of six lemons.

Mix thoroughly, and strain, as described in the recipe for "Punch à la Ford," adding more sugar and lemon juice, if to taste. Bottle, and keep on ice for three or four days, and the punch will be ready for use, but the longer it stands, the better it gets.

Regent's Punch.

(Use punch bowl.)

- Take 1½ pint of strong green tea, (hot).
- 1½ pint of lemon juice.
- 1½ pint of Capillaire.
- 1 pint of Jamaica rum.
- 1 pint of brandy.
- 1 pint of Batavia arrack.
- 1 pint of Curaçoa.
- 1 bottle of Champagne.
- 1 pineapple, sliced.
- 2 oranges, sliced.

Mix the ingredients well together in a punch-bowl, and add the wine and ice just before serving.

Nectar Punch.

- Take 4½ pints of rum.
- 2 quarts of milk, boiling hot.
- 2 quarts of cold water.
- 2½ pounds of loaf-sugar.

- 15 lemons.
1 nutmeg.

Cut off the peel of the lemons very thin and infuse them for forty-eight hours with a pint and a half of the rum. Add to the infusion the water, the juice of the lemons, the milk, and the nutmeg grated; let it all stand for twenty-four hours, covered close; then add the sugar, strain through flannel, and bottle for use. It is ready to use at any time.

Orange Punch.

- Take $\frac{3}{4}$ pint of rum.
 $\frac{3}{4}$ pint of brandy.
 $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of porter.
 $3\frac{1}{2}$ pints of boiling water.
 $\frac{3}{4}$ pound of loaf-sugar.
4 oranges.

Infuse the peel of two and the juice of four oranges with the sugar, in the water for half an hour; strain, and add the porter, rum and brandy. Sugar may be added, if it be desired sweeter. A liqueur-glass of Curaçoa, Noyeau, or Maraschino is considered an improvement.

Instead of using both rum and brandy, one-and-a-half pints of either alone will answer.

This is also an excellent recipe for LEMON PUNCH by substituting lemons for oranges.

Wedding Punch.

- Take $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of pineapple juice.
1 pint of lemon juice.

- 1 pint of lemon syrup.
- 1 bottle of Claret or Port wine.
- $\frac{1}{2}$ pound of sugar.
- $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of boiling water.
- 6 grains of vanilla.
- 1 grain of ambergris.
- 1 pint of strong brandy.

Rub the vanilla and ambergris with the sugar in the brandy thoroughly ; let it stand in a corked bottle for a few hours, shaking occasionally. Then add the lemon juice, pineapple juice and wine ; filter through flannel, and lastly, add the syrup.

West Indian Punch.

This is made in the same manner as Brandy Punch (see page 65), by adding to each glass a small piece of preserved ginger, and a little of the syrup.

Barbadoes Punch.

Barbadoes Punch is prepared by adding to each glass of Brandy Punch (see page 65) one tea-spoonful of guava jelly.

Apple Punch.

In a china bowl lay alternate layers of sliced apples and lemons, each layer being thickly strewed with powdered sugar, until the bowl is about half filled ; then pour a bottle of claret over the fruit and let it stand six hours. Pour it through a muslin bag, and it is ready for use.

Ale Punch.

Take 1 quart of mild ale.
 1 glass of white wine.
 1 glass of brandy.
 1 glass of Capillaire.
 1 lemon.

Mix the ale, wine, brandy and Capillaire together with the juice of the lemon and a portion of the peel pared very thin. Grate nutmeg on the top, and add a bit of toasted bread.

Cider Punch.

Take $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of Sherry.
 1 glass of brandy.
 1 bottle of cider.
 $\frac{1}{4}$ pound of sugar.
 1 lemon.

Pare the peel of half the lemon very thin ; pour the Sherry upon it ; add the sugar, the juice of the lemon, and the cider, with a little grated nutmeg. Mix well and place it on ice. When cold, add the brandy and a few pieces of cucumber rind.

Hot English Rum Flip.

(One quart.)

Take 1 quart of ale.
 1 gill of old rum.
 4 raw fresh eggs.
 4 ounces of moist sugar.
 1 tea-spoonful of grated nutmeg (or ginger).

Heat the ale in a saucepan ; beat up the eggs and sugar, add the nutmeg and rum, and put it all in a pitcher. When the ale is near to a boil, put it in another pitcher, pour it very gradually in the pitcher containing the eggs, etc., stirring all the while very briskly to prevent the eggs from curdling, then pour the contents of the two pitchers from one to the other until the mixture is as smooth as cream.

Hot English Ale Flip.

(One quart.)

This is prepared in the same manner as Rum Flip, omitting the rum, and the whites of two of the eggs.

Sleeper.

Take 1 gill of old rum.
1 ounce of sugar.
2 fresh raw eggs.
 $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of water.
6 cloves.
6 coriander seeds.
1 lemon.

Boil the cloves and coriander, with a bit of cinnamon in the water ; mix together the rum, sugar, the yolks of the eggs and the juice of half the lemon ; whisk them all together, and strain into a tumbler.

White Tiger's Milk.

(From a recipe in the possession of Dr. Thomas Dunn English.)

Take $\frac{1}{2}$ gill of apple-jack.

$\frac{1}{2}$ gill of peach brandy.

$\frac{1}{2}$ tea-spoonful of aromatic tincture (see Index, "Aromatic Tincture").

Sweeten with white sugar to taste.

The white of an egg beaten to a stiff foam.

1 quart of pure fresh milk.

Pour in the milk to the mixed liquors, gradually, stirring all the while till all is well mixed, then sprinkle with nutmeg.

The above recipe is sufficient to make a full quart of "White Tiger's Milk;" if more is wanted, you can increase the above proportions.

If you want to prepare this beverage for a party of twenty, use one gallon of milk to one pint of apple-jack, etc.

Locomotive.

(Use large bar-glass.)

Take 1 table-spoonful of genuine honey.

The yolk of a fresh raw egg.

3 dashes of Curaçoa.

1 Claret-glass of red Burgundy.

Heat the wine in a thoroughly clean saucepan until it boils, then pour it gradually upon the other ingredients, (which, previously, should have been thoroughly beaten together in a mug or pitcher), whisking and stirring the materials all the while, in order to prevent the egg from curdling. Pour the mixture into a large barglass, powder a little cinnamon on top, and add two or three cloves before serving.

This seems like taking too much trouble just to make one glass of Locomotive. The following proportions of ingredients makes four nice glasses :

Take 2 ounces of honey.

2 pony-glasses of Curaçoa.

1 quart of high red Burgundy.

A few drops of essence of cloves.

Proceed as directed above, and serve in large goblets previously heated.

Sherry and Bitters.

(Use Sherry wine-glass.)

Take 1 dash of bitters, twist the glass around so that the bitters will cover the whole surface of the glass. Fill with sherry wine, and serve.

Sherry and Egg.

(Use small bar-glass.)

Pour in about one wine-glass of Sherry. Then break in the glass one fresh egg.

Sherry and Ice.

(Use small bar-glass.)

Put in the glass two or three small lumps of ice. Hand the decanter of wine to the customer.

Brandy Straight.

(Use small bar-glass.)

In serving this drink you simply put a piece of ice in a tumbler, and hand it to your customer, with the bottle of brandy, and a separate glass of ice water.

WHISKEY STRAIGHT and GIN STRAIGHT are served in the same manner.

Pony Brandy.

(Use small bar-glass.)

Take 1 pony-glass of brandy, (best).

Pour it into the glass, and serve with some ice-water in a separate glass.

Some bar-tenders have a fancy way of serving this drink. It is done thusly :—

Fill to the brim a pony-glass of brandy, cover it with the bar-glass, then press both glasses tightly together and turn them over quickly, so that the pony-glass will remain upside down in the bar-glass, without a drop of the brandy escaping.

Brandy and Soda.

(Use large soda-water glass.)

Take 1 wine-glass of brandy.

2 or 3 small lumps of ice.

Fill up the glass with a bottle of plain soda-water. This is sometimes called STONE WALL.

(Use small bar-glass.)

Take 2 dashes of gum syrup.

1 small lump of ice.

Hand the bottle to the customer and let him help himself.

Serve ice water in a separate glass.

Shandy Gaff.

(Use large bar-glass, or mug.)

Fill the glass half full of Ale, and the remaining half with Irish ginger ale.

In England, where this drink had its origin, it is made with Bass' ale, and Ginger ale, half and half.

Half and Half.

(Use metal or stone bar-mug.)

Mix half old and half new ale together.

This is the American method.

"Arf and Arf."

(Use metal or stone bar-mug.)

Mix porter or Stout, with Ale in equal quantities, or in proportions to suit the taste.

This is the English method, and usually, "draw it mild, Mary, the ale first."

Absinthe and Water.

(Use large bar-glass.)

Take 1 pony-glass of Absinthe.

Fill an absinthe glass, (which is a glass made purposely with a hole in the bottom), with shaved ice and water. Raise this glass about one foot above the tumbler containing the absinthe, and let sufficient water drip into it.

French Method of Serving Absinthe.

(Use a Champagne glass standing in a bowl.)

Take 1 pony-glass of Absinthe.

Let the water drip, as directed in the preceding recipe, until the glass is full, and a very little runs over into the bowl.

White Plush.

(Use small bar-glass.)

Hand a bottle of Bourbon or rye whiskey to the customer and let him help himself.

Fill up the glass with fresh milk.

A curious story about the origin of this drink, is thus told by the New York Herald:

“There are some mixed drinks that are standbys, and are always popular, such as cocktails, punches and juleps; but every little while there will be a new racket sprung on the public that will have a great run for a time, and then get knocked out by another. About a month ago white plush got its start in this way: There was a country buyer down from New England somewhere, and a party of dry goods men were trying to make it pleasant for him. So they took him into a swell barroom down town, and were going to open sour wine. Same old story, you know; get him full as a balloon and then work him for a big order. It turned out that this countryman was not such a flat as they thought him. Though he had been swigging barrels of hard cider and smuggled Canada whiskey for the last twenty years, he pleaded the temperance business on them; said he never drank, and he guessed he'd just take a glass of water if the'd git him one, as he was kinder thirsty walkin' round so much. Well, that was a set back for the boys. They knew he had lots of money to spend, and he was one of those unapproachable ducks that have got to be warmed up before you can do anything with them.

“‘O, take something,’ they said; ‘take some milk.’”

“‘Well, I guess a glass of milk would go sorter good,’ said he.

“Some one suggested kumyss and told him what it was. As they did not have any kumyss in the place they gave him some milk and seltzer. ‘That’s about the same thing. One of the boys gave the bartender a wink and he put a dash of whiskey in it. The old man did not get on to it all. He thought it was the seltzer that flavored it. The next round the seltzer was left out altogether and more whiskey put in. They kept on giving it to him until he got pretty well set up. It’s a very insidious and seductive drink. Pretty soon the countryman got funny and tipped his glass over on the table. As it spread around he said:

“‘Gosh, it looks like white plush, don’t it?’”

“‘So it does,’ said the boys. ‘Give the gentleman another yard of white plush, here;’ and the name has stuck to it ever since.”

PREPARED PUNCH AND PUNCH ESSENCES.

A glass of punch, with all the et ceteras, is an excellent thing ; the main difficulty about it is that, outside of a well-appointed bar-room, the necessary ingredients are not usually found ready to hand at the moment when they are indispensable ; and, even under the most favorable circumstances, it is not every one that knows the precise proportions and happy blending of flavors that constitute a perfect glass of punch.

The enlightenment of the present day is full of short-cuts to comfort, and all the impediments in the way of enjoying a social glass of punch, compounded according to the latest discoveries of the art, are obviated by having a bottle of the desired nectar in a concentrated essence form, ready brewed in exact proportions, and nothing needed but a moderate supply of hot or cold water, or ice, to adjust it to the correct strength and temperature, and a glass to receive the welcome libation.

Inquire Within for Anything You Want to Know; or, Over 3,500 Facts for the People. "Inquire Within" is one of the most valuable and extraordinary volumes ever presented to the American public, and embodies nearly 4,000 facts, in most of which any person living will find instruction, aid and entertainment. As a book to be kept in the family for reference it is unequalled, comprising, as it does, all kinds of books of information in a single volume.

It is a Doctor, a Gardener, a School-master, a Dancing-Master, an Artist, a Naturalist, a Modeler, a Cook, a Lawyer, a Surgeon, a Chemist, a Perfumer, a Dyer, a Brewer, an Architect, a Bookkeeper, a Confectioner, a Laundress, a "Hoyle," a "Letter-Writer,"

A "Ready Reckoner," and a House-keeper.

IT ALSO CONTAINS

Tables of Weights and Measures, Interest Tables from $1 up to $10,000, Innumerable Tables on Curious and Interesting Subjects, All Kinds of Family Amusements and Recreations.

It might strike the casual observer as something incredible, if not impossible, that such an immense and varied amount of matter could be crowded into a book of the merely nominal price of a dollar and a half; but the work contains 436 large pages of small type, closely printed in double column, and a perusal of it will convince the most skeptical that the only thing to be wondered at in it, is the extremely low price at which it is offered.
