ington.

INTRODUCTION.

We also find they are often at a loss to know where to get supplies for the bar, and by what name to order.

With these facts in view we have published the BARKEEPERS' READY REFERENCE, and think if it is consulted it will prove a good friend in time of need. We give the names of none but the best houses, and feel confident that our friends and patrons will have justice done them, not only in quality but in quantity for their money. The recipes we give are all good, and come from experienced bar tenders, not only in America, but from Europe and other countries.

From time immemorial the human family have indulged in strong drink. We find by the Bible that Father Noah went so far as to get drunk, and require sleep to work off the effect of the liquor, before he was able to instruct and advise his sons how to act in the great drama of life, of which they alone were the surviving stars. We are as prone to drink as the sparks are to fly upward; have been, are, and will be as long as there is strong drink for us to indulge in. The wild red man loves his fire water, the Irishman his whisky, the Dutchman his beer, and the French their wine.

But the Americans. Why, they love all at once. And as it is inconvenient to drink so often, they have them mixed, and take them in the shape of smashes, toddies, julips, cocktails, and many other names which we will mention in due time. We do not pretend to say that it is right to partake of strong drink, neither do we say it is wrong. We leave that to the sober, better thoughts of those who have lived longer and seen more. But this we do say, and from actual experience, that it is worse than suicide to drink the miserable compounds of impure and poisonous liquors that are sold at such low figures that you get a good sized quart for a dram. Beware of cheap drinks, cheap liquor in any shape, and especially old Bourbon whisky at one dollar per gallon. It costs twice that to make it, and as much more to hold it long enough to give it age, as we would say, and that peculiar mellow taste so agreeable to all good judges of the article.

As this book is intended for those engaged in the liquor business, perhaps a few hints in regard to the selection of stock would not be out of place.

First. Never purchase low proof whisky.

Second. Never purchase a high colored whisky unless you know its age, and then get all the money you have ready for delivery, for it costs much and will not be appreciated by many of your customers.

Third. Always purchase your wines and liquors in bond if possible.

Fourth. If you want to keep a first-class place, get first-class liquors, first-class help, and charge first-class prices. In this way you will succeed and in no other.

We have collected in the last ten years of our travels recipes from some of the best compounders and mixers of drinks in almost all the cities in this and the old country, and if they are carefully followed out we know that they will not only give satisfaction to the drinking public, but will add to the bar keepers' wealth and respectability.

We have endeavored to put the recipes in plain English, so as to be understood by all, and hope that this, our humble effort, may prove a guide to many a novice in the business, and place him in the way to earn an honest living.

Respectfully,

THE AUTHOR.

No. 39.

CLARET COBBLER.

Same as Hock, using claret wine.

COCKTAILS.

In making cocktails always use a cocktail bitter, and not the common stomach or Stoughton, as cocktail bitters are made of spices, and give that pure racy taste that you cannot get from an herb bitter. There are some very good cocktail bitters that come cheap enough to be used by all good first-class bars, and you should never be without them, as it takes but a few drops to flavor a real good cocktail that would taste flat without it. We name—

Bogart's.

Angostoria, (imported, but fine.)

Brady's Cocktail Bitters.

Golden “ “

All of which are very fine, and to be relied on at all times as pure and good.

No. 64.

GO SLOW.

(Small glass.)

$\frac{1}{2}$ wine-glass of rum.

1 spoonful of sugar.

Yolk of an egg.

A few drops of lemon juice.

Fill with hot water in which you have boiled a few cloves (6), coriander seed (6), and a piece of cinnamon to the pint.

No. 65.
HIGH FLYER.

(Small glass.)

$\frac{1}{2}$ brandy.

$\frac{1}{2}$ maraschino.

Dash with bitters.

No. 66.

TOM AND JERRY.

Use a large bowl to make your mixture in.

5 lbs. of white sugar.

12 eggs.

$\frac{1}{2}$ glass of good rum.

1 teaspoonful of ground cinnamon.

$\frac{1}{2}$ " " cloves.

$\frac{1}{2}$ " " allspice.

Beat the white of the eggs until they will stand alone when piled up. Beat the yolks until thin as water. Then mix them together. Add the spice and rum, and thicken up with the sugar, stirring well all the time. Serve it in small bar glass as follows: To one table spoonful of the mixture, add 1 wine glass of brandy. Fill up with hot water, and grate nutmeg on top.

If you will mix $\frac{1}{2}$ brandy, $\frac{1}{4}$ rum and $\frac{1}{4}$ good whisky, dashed with bitters, and keep it on hand, you will find it better than brandy plain, and much preferred.

A teaspoonful of cream of tartar should be put into the bowl of mixture to keep the sugar from settling to the bottom.

No. 67.

CONDUCTOR'S EYE WATER.

(Large glass.)

Yolk of a fresh egg.

1 teaspoonful of honey.

A dash of bitters.

Also with curacoa.

Fill with hot Burgundy. Stir well together. Grate nutmeg on top.

No. 68.
CIDER CREAM.

(In twelve drinks.)

1 quart of good cider.

Sugar to taste. Strain into glasses, and grate in nutmeg.

No. 69.

CUCUMBER HASH SMASH.

Peel 1 fine large cucumber, slice it up in a bowl and add three spoonfuls of sugar, or more if you wish ; pour on claret wine until all the sugar is dissolved. Then put in 1 quart of good whisky, and dash well with bitters. Serve in wine glass after you have stirred it.

No. 70.
GERMAN HALF AND HALF.

(Large glass.)

$\frac{1}{2}$ Rhine wine.

$\frac{1}{2}$ seltzer water.

No. 71.

PEACH AND HONEY.

1 spoonful of strained honey.

1 wine glass of peach brandy.

Stir up, and drop in a piece of ice;
or use with hot water, if preferred.

No. 72.

GIN AND PINE.

Split up some green pine into small splints and put into your decanter of gin. It should lay 12 hours before you use it. It is much liked by some.

No. 73.
ABSINTHE.

(Small glass.)

Set a liquor glass of Absinthe in your bar glass and drop the water in it, drop by drop, until the glass is full. You should be careful with this, as it is injurious to some persons.

No. 74.

HOT RUM SPICED.

(Small glass.)

1 spoonful of sugar.

1 wine glass of Jamaica rum.

1 teaspoonful of mixed spices.

$\frac{1}{2}$ spoonful of butter.

Fill up with hot water, and grate nutmeg on top.

No. 75.

BRANDY AND BITTERS.

Hand your customer the glass with a piece of ice, and the bottle. Also, the bitters.

No. 76.

PONY BRANDY.

Fill the glass with brandy and hand to customer. The best of brandy should be used. No ice.

(For two quarts.)

3 large lemons, cut and mashed.

The white of two eggs.

9 large spoonfuls of white sugar.

Beat well together; add three pints of water, and fill up with ice. Grate nutmeg on top, and serve in large glasses with some of the cream on each glass.

No. 80.

HOT LEMONADE.

Hot lemonade can be made the same as French Lemonade by substituting hot water instead of ice.

No. 81.

LEMON AND SHERRY.

Made the same as French lemonade, adding $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of sherry, and leaving off the same amount of water.

No. 82.
TO MAKE SARSAPARILLA
BEER.

One pound of Spanish Sarsaparilla, boil in water for five hours; add water enough to have two gallons. Add to this 16 lbs. of loaf sugar and 10 ounces of tartaric acid.

To large bar glass put one table-spoonful of this syrup. Fill with water and put in $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful of soda.

No. 83.

PLAIN GINGER BEER.

1 tablespoonful of ginger.

1 " " cream of tartar.

1 pint of yeast.

1 pint of mollasses.

6 quarts of water.

When it begins to ferment, bottle, cork and tie it well.

No. 84.

ROYAL GINGER BEER.

10 lbs. of loaf sugar.

 $\frac{1}{2}$ " lemon juice. $\frac{1}{2}$ " honey, (strained.) $\frac{3}{4}$ " ginger root, (bruised.)

9 gallons of water.

3 pints of yeast.

Boil the ginger for half an hour in $1\frac{1}{2}$ gallons of water, then add the rest of the water and other ingredients and strain it. When cold add the white of one egg, beaten, and $\frac{1}{2}$ ounce of essence of lemon. Let it stand four or five days and then bottle it. It will keep for three months.

(NOTE.)—Never use anything but stone bottles for beer of this kind, for glass will not only break but admits too much light, and spoils the beer.

No. 85.

SHAM CHAMPAGNE.

One lemon sliced.

1 tablespoonful of tartaric acid.

One ounce of rare ginger.

1½ lbs. of white sugar.

Add 2½ gallons of boiling water, and 1 gill of yeast. Let it stand in the sun through the day, and at night after it cools, bottle it and let it stand two or three days before you use it.

No. 86.

PLAIN LEMON SYRUP.

$\frac{1}{2}$ lb. of white sugar.

1 pint of lemon juice.

Boil ten minutes.

Strain and bottle, corking tight.

You should always have this on hand, as it is a fine flavor for many drinks.

No. 87.

RASPBERRY VINEGAR.

One gallon of good ripe berries, mashed well. Press the juice through a linen bag. Add to each pint of juice $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of pure cider vinegar, and $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. of loaf sugar. Mix the vinegar and juice first, and boil them, stirring in the sugar slowly. To each 2 lbs. of sugar add the white of an egg. Boil and skim until you get off all the scum. Strain off clear, and when cold bottle it.

This is very fine to flavor many mixed drinks, or good for temperance folks, diluted with water and ice.

Seal the bottles and keep them in a cool place.

No. 88.

RED CHAMPAGNE.

Six quarts of ripe currants, mash well. Melt 9 lbs. of white sugar in three gallons of soft water. Boil the water and sugar together until you can skim off all the scum. Then pour it hot over the currants. When it is nearly cold add about 1 gill of good yeast. Then strain off after it has worked for two days into a clean cask. Put into it a few chips of izinglass. Let it remain in the cask for three weeks before you bottle. Put into each bottle a lump of refined sugar or a large raisin. Cork and tie well and lay the bottles on the sides in your cellar.

No. 89.
CIDER.

To keep cider good is one thing, but to make good cider out of bad is quite another. It cannot be done, and you only waste your time with it. To keep good cider put a large handful of good hops into the barrel and let it work off the pumice. Fill up the barrel as it runs out at the bung with clean rain water, for if you use cider you will never get done fermenting. When it ceases to send up pumice rock off into a clean cask, smoked with sulphur, and put it away in a cool dry cellar. It will keep for years.

No. 90.

CIDER PUNCH.

1 gallon of cider, hot.

1 lb. of good fresh figs.

$\frac{1}{2}$ " white sugar.

White of 2 eggs.

Grate nutmeg on top, and serve hot.

No. 91.

MULLED CIDER.

1 pint of cider.

2 spoonfuls of white sugar.

A small piece of lemon rind. Heat a clean poker hot and hold it in the mug. Nutmeg if you wish.

No. 92.

CIDER AND SHERRY.

$\frac{1}{2}$ cider.

$\frac{1}{2}$ sherry, with one egg.

No. 93.

CIDER FLIPP.

(Small glass)

1 wine glass of hard cider.

1 spoonful of white sugar.

3 cloves.

Small piece of mace.

Fill with hot water and drink.

No. 95.
RED HOT.

(Small glass.)

Good for a cold, or to use as a night-cap.

Wine glass of hard cider.

1 spoonful of ground ginger.

1 spoonful of brown sugar.

White of one egg, well beat up.

Two or three cloves.

Fill up with hot water, and grate nutmeg on top.

This is an excellent drug to sweat off a cold, and should be used with caution, just before going to bed, or when persons do not have to expose themselves to the weather.

No. 96.

LATE DODGE.

(Small glass.)

1 wine glass of good brandy.

Dash with bitters.

1 spoonful of sugar.

1 " honey.

1 " sharp vinegar.

1 " butter.

Set the brandy on fire, and hand it to your customer. This drink is of French origin, and is sometimes called French Cream.

No. 97.

LITTLE JOAKER.

(Small pony glass)

Is made with brandy, sugar and butter. Set on fire. and hand to your customer.

No. 98.

TIP TOP.

(Small glass.)

1 pint of good rich cream.

White of two eggs, well beat.

3 tablespoonfuls of white sugar.

Stir into it carefully $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of Sherry wine. Serve in a small bar glass, with nutmeg on top, and ice in the summer, or hot water in winter. This is a favorite with the ladies, and is often called Sherry Egg Nogg.

Be careful and beat the eggs, sugar and cream well together before you put in the wine, or it will curdle.

No. 99.

BUTTER MILK, PLAIN.

(Large glass.)

Serve this when fresh, with nothing but a lump of ice in the glass.

No. 100.

MILK AND HONEY.

(Large glass.)

Fill the glass $\frac{1}{2}$ full of good rich milk, stir in one large spoonful of nice strained honey. Ice, and shake until it froths up well. Grate on nutmeg, and put a fly in it if you wish. This is very fine.

RECIPES

COOKING OYSTERS, GAME, ETC.

VENISON STEAK, BROILED.

Cut your steak about one inch thick. Wash clean, and broil over a clear fire until well done. Game should never be rare. Salt and pepper to your taste, and dress with fresh butter.

BROILED QUAILS.

Split down the back of the Quails, and serve same as you would a Venison steak.

OYSTER STEW, (FRENCH.)

(For four persons)

Take four dozen nice Oysters, wash them clean. Put them into cold water. Take the juice and pour into $\frac{1}{2}$ pint white wine, (sherry,) and juice of two lemons, (no skin,) and grate on a little nutmeg. When it comes to a boil, drain the oysters out of the water and put them to the stew. Take off immediately, and serve on toast bread at once.

This is an excellent dish, and gives general satisfaction.

OYSTER STEW, (PLAIN.)

(Soup for two.)

Take about two dozen good large Oysters, draw off the liquor and put them into the chafing dish or stew pan, with about $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. of fresh butter, and let them simmer a moment in that, then put in the juice and $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of rich milk, and let them come to a boil. Stir well to keep them from scorching. Take off, season, and serve hot.

FRIED OYSTERS.

Take the largest and freshest Oysters, as salt Oysters are not good fried. Wipe them dry and dip each oyster into a batter of the yolk of eggs, beat up well with cream, half and half. Then dip it into grated crackers or bread crumbs. Have your frying pan nearly full of equal parts of butter and lard, boiling hot. Dip the oyster in and cook until light brown. Use no salt on them.

BROILED OYSTERS.

Take the largest and finest Oysters you can get. See that your grid-iron is scraped clean. Rub the bars well with butter, and broil over a clear fire with no smoke. Be careful not to let the Oysters burn, turn them carefully so as not to tear them, place them on toast in a hot plate, pepper and salt them to taste.

In presenting our advertisement to a deserving public, we do so with the full assurance that our goods will have the closest scrutiny and guarantee satisfaction in every case.

We would call attention to some of our deservedly popular Brands.

Our Sun Beam Fine Cut Chewing Tobacco, is manufactured from selected Kentucky leaf, of a bright golden color, long cut and free from shorts. Good body, fine flavor, and splendid chew, in a word, containing all the requisites of a first class chewing tobacco. In fact it has no superior and few equals. Try it. Put up in 10 lb. fancy buckets, 10 lb., 20 lb. and 40 lb. kegs and 60 lb. bbls., also in tin foil $\frac{1}{2}$ gross boxes.

Killickinicks are put up in 2, 4, 8 and 16 oz. striped cloth sacks, with draw strings.

Smokers who desire a first class smoking tobacco, should ask for the delicious Sure Thing or Daisy Dean. Both have proven themselves very popular wherever the choicest and best are sought, Their popularity is owing to their being manufactured from the best selected sun cured Kentucky and Missouri leaf, and put up in the latest and best styles.

Goods sent to any part of the country per express, C. O. D. or otherwise, when we have satisfactory references.

BRANCH OFFICES AND FACTORIES :

Nos. 47 and 49 State Street, Chicago, Ill.
No. 8 West Sixth Street, Cincinnati, O.
48 St. Louis Street, New Orleans, La.

Having ample means and facilities at our command, enabling us to import all articles from their original sources in Europe, and paying no commissions or salaries to hirelings and runners for boasting up the qualities of our goods, we can afford to sell them at lower prices than any other first-class house.

To prevent inquiries, many of which reach us from time to time, we give below the requisite dimensions of a room for the various sized tables:

For table	5½ by 11	the room	should be	16 by 22	feet.
"	5 by 10	"	"	15½ by 21	"
"	4½ by 9	"	"	15 by 20	"
"	4 by 8	"	"	14 by 18½	"
"	3½ by 7	"	"	13 by 17	"

This space should be clear of such obstructions as mantel-pieces, &c. The dimensions above given are those of the smallest room fit to hold the different sized tables, and allowing space for comfortable play.

We can furnish any number of Tables, of either fine Rosewood, Mahogany, Oak or Walnut, with Marble or Slate Beds, according to order. Each Table is furnished with sufficient Cloth to cover the same; one set Ivory Balls; twelve Cues; two Maces; one Bridge; fine Cue Rack; one set (200) Markers; one Cushion Screw Wrench, and Rules of the Game. Everything supplied is of the very best quality.

We can make Tables of smaller sizes than those specified, to suit the dimensions of any room. Second-hand Billiard Tables, with new equipments constantly on hand, at low prices. Large sized Tables cut down to any smaller size, and altered to Carom or four pocket.

IMPORTANT TO CUSTOMERS.

Persons sending us tables to be cut down should send the entire table, and notify us immediately after shipment. When sending Cushions and Rails to be altered and repaired, it is essential, also, to send the Pocket Irons, as they are needed to find the size of the openings of pockets.

All packages sent to us should have the name and address of the owner plainly marked thereon.

The route by which goods are to be forwarded should be distinctly designated at the time of ordering.

All goods purchased of us will be packed with care; but we cannot be responsible for breakage or other injury after they are shipped by us in good order. The steamboat or railroad company whose receipts we will procure for the purchaser will then be responsible.

Our circular, containing designs and prices of the various styles of Billiard, Bagatelle and Jeny Lind Tables, and Cue Racks, will be sent on application.

☞ All the articles enumerated within are of the best quality—as we deal in no other—and customers sending us orders by mail may depend upon having them filled promptly, and with as much exactness as if they were personally present and made the selection.

NOTICE.

In ordering goods, please state that you order by list furnished in READY REFERENCE.
